APUS

According to Para 'B' of part-II of Appendix to Government order read above, all employees who have completed 15 years of satisfactory services as on the 31st August, of each year, including service in the ordinary as well as special grades, shall be eligible for being considered for inclusion in the panel for appointment to special promotion posts/special adhoc promotion post. It has been brought to the notice of Government that while if, the case of appointment of special grade posts, the service that counts for increment is to be reckoned for purposes of computation of services, whereas in the case of appointment to special promotion post/ special adhoc promotion post satisfactory service should be reckoned for purposes of computation of service, what exactly constitute 'Satisfactory service' is not clearly defined, in the order 1st cited. Therefore, Government hereby clarify that 'satisfactory service' referred to in Part-11 'B' of Appendix to the G.O. first cited means the services which count for probation and seniority.
